Cleaning Up the Search Results

Bad SERP listings can result from outdated articles, competitor attacks, or irrelevant content. webFEAT Complete works to suppress or displace negative listings by enhancing existing content, publishing new optimized assets, and leveraging strategic link-building to help search engines prioritize accurate, positive information.

Managing Google Local Reviews

When it comes to reviews, visibility and tone matter. webFEAT Complete helps clients navigate negative feedback by improving response strategies, encouraging positive customer reviews, and resolving issues that may lead to low ratings. These efforts not only support better local rankings but also improve consumer trust.

"We don't just mask the problem," said Michelle Selnick, CEO of webFEAT Complete. "We help businesses actively rebuild their reputation with long-term strategies rooted in transparency, consistency, and quality."

With nearly three decades in digital marketing, webFEAT Complete has seen how quickly a single review or article can shift public perception. Their team works closely with businesses across industries to restore trust and establish a more accurate online presence.
