The new method uses significantly less water than traditional steam cleaning while still effectively lifting dirt, debris, and stains from carpet fibers. The fast-drying technique helps minimize downtime in homes and offices, allowing carpets to be walked on within hours rather than days. It's an ideal solution for busy households, apartment residents, and commercial spaces looking for convenience without compromising on cleanliness or environmental safety.

“Our clients need both speed and quality,” said a Green Carpet's Cleaning spokesperson. “This service helps them get the deep cleaning they want with drying times that work for real life.”

Green Carpet's Cleaning has already begun offering this new solution in Mount Wilson, where residents can now take advantage of fast-drying carpet cleaning in Mount Wilson that leaves floors refreshed without long wait times.
