When a SMOG shop owner receives a STAR citation, suspension, or a letter threatening some type of action, they may not realize the rights they have under the law.”

William Ferreira

Specialists, a California-based law firm defending auto repair and SMOG shops from the Bureau of Automotive Repair, is proud to announce new content on the value of a defense lawyer. If a SMOG shop receives an action from the Bureau of Automotive Repair, the legal complexities can be daunting. The new content provides detailed information on the steps necessary to identify and retain a lawyer, as well as the value add that a professional lawyer can bring to the table.

"When a SMOG shop owner receives a STAR citation, suspension, or a letter threatening some type of action, they may not realize the rights they have under the law. Our specialized defense lawyers, however, do," stated William Ferreira, lead attorney at Automotive Defense Specialists. "Our law firm makes sure that every one of their rights are safeguarded, as they struggle with our help to defend against the powerful regulatory agency positively."

Owners of auto repair and smog shops can review the newly updated content on the advantages of using a defense lawyer at <https://automotivedefense.com/about/services/bureau-of-automotive-repair-accusation/>. Auto Defense Specialists serve SMOG test and auto repair businesses throughout California. The defense attorneys manage SMOG cases, including STAR invalidations, interim suspension orders, and licensing issues. If the Bureau of Automotive Repair sends a letter or formal notification to a repair or SMOG shop, the legal team can help.

SMOG technicians and station owners can reach out to an attorney who is ready to research a case, inspect evidence, and question witnesses. The work of a skilled attorney could help settle and save a STAR or SMOG certification. It should be noted that most of these procedures fall under administrative law, although some can become a criminal issue. Additionally, an attorney may help reduce or even eliminate fines or other ramifications. Each case can include unique circumstances, and no specific outcome can be guaranteed.

Automotive Defense Attorneys can help investigate Bureau of Auto Repair claims related to smog check failures, fraud, clean piping, estimate errors, and ARD license issues. The legal team handles hearings before the BAR and cases involving undercover cars. The BAR issues up to one thousand STAR certificate suspensions annually (<https://www.bar.ca.gov/star/faq>). The SMOG community can review the updated content for STAR suspensions at <https://automotivedefense.com/about/services/bureau-of-automotive-repair-star-invalidation-cases/>.

SMOG AND AUTO REPAIR SHOPS MAY FIND VALUE IN ATTORNEY SUPPORT

Here is the background on this release. Both the general public and the state regulatory agency for SMOG shops and auto repair stations may be concerned about the honesty of the repair industry. For this reason, small, trustworthy, hard-working SMOG and auto repair shops may be frustrated by unscrupulous competitors. If a hard-working SMOG and auto repair shop receives a letter from the Bureau of Automotive Repair, however, the terminology and accusations may be confusing. As the new content explains, the dollars spent hiring a lawyer may return manyfold in return on investment.
