Highlights from the 2025 Corporate Range

1. Ava Stretch Skirt

A classic below-the-knee pencil skirt made with a durable poly-viscose-spandex blend. It features a rear split, flat front waistband, and stretch lining for all-day comfort. Available in navy, charcoal, and black.

2. Geneva Short Sleeve Dress

Designed for high-performance wear, the Geneva dress has a refined neckline, tailored waist, and centre back zip. With its wrinkle-resistant stretch fabric, it offers effortless polish and comfort — ideal for hospitality, front-of-house, or corporate teams.

3. Madison Stretch Shirt

One of Biz Collection's most popular designs, the Madison shirt is made from cotton-rich fabric with elastane for movement. The women's version includes bust darts and waist shaping, while the men's style offers a slightly tapered fit.

4. Stella Skirt & Blake Shirt Combo

Pair the Stella slimline skirt with a Blake shirt in crisp white or light blue for a minimal, high-impact corporate look. The Blake shirt's modern collar and easy-care fabric make it perfect for both office and client-facing roles.

Inclusivity and Sizing

At City Workwear, we believe professional uniforms should be accessible to all team members, regardless of gender, shape, or size. The Biz Collection is designed with inclusivity in mind, offering an extended size range from 4–30 for women and XS–6XL for men, with matching styles to ensure consistent presentation across your team.

The collection is also coordinated — meaning team members can choose between dresses, skirts, or pants depending on their preference, without compromising on colour matching or brand consistency.

“We work with many companies who value choice and inclusivity in their corporate wardrobe,” said Tan. “That’s why the Biz Collection is such a strong fit — it empowers staff to feel comfortable and look professional without a one-style-fits-all approach.”
