

Blood Collection Market Size Predicted to Hit USD 7.9 billion by 2031 at 5.2% CAGR, Says AMR

Rise in government support for exploring the possibilities of allowing laboratories to amplify blood testing processes had a positive impact on the market.

PORTLAND, OR, UNITED STATES, June 24, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Allied Market Research has published a study report with the title Blood Collection Market Size was Valued at USD 4.8 billion in 2021 and is Projected to Garner USD 7.9 billion by 2031, registering a CAGR of 5.2% from 2022 to 2031.

Rise in the incidence of trauma & accidents, increase in number of surgical procedures performed, growing prevalence of chronic diseases such as blood cancer, and surge in government expenditure on healthcare drive the global blood collection market. On the other hand, certain risks related to blood transfusion procedure such as blood-borne infections, fever, acute immune hemolytic reaction, and allergic reactions impede the market growth to some extent. However, high growth potential in the emerging economies have been beneficial for the industry.
