that support healthcare leaders in an ever-evolving and complex landscape. By fusing industry expertise with scalable solutions, ECG is uniquely positioned to help leaders achieve efficiency, sustainability, and regulatory compliance.

CapDx: A Data-Driven Approach to Improving Provider Efficiency

Health systems typically operate at just 60% of their available provider capacity, with an average 38-day wait time for new patients to see a specialist. CapDx, a capacity diagnostic solution, helps organizations get the most out of their existing resources (e.g., space, staffing) while reducing burnout and improving financial sustainability.

This tech-enabled solution deploys rapidly and integrates seamlessly through a secure cloud-based system, marking the first industry solution that unifies EHR, provider scheduling, and proprietary benchmarks to inform decision-making based on real data, not anecdotal pressure. CapDx has been shown to increase preexisting provider capacity by an average of 6%, enabling thousands of additional patient visits each year.

RangerFMV: A Scalable, Web-Based Solution for Compliance

RangerFMV automates expert-backed fair market value (FMV) opinions for physician and provider compensation arrangements. More than an automated solution, it acts as a vital compliance safeguard amid rising regulatory scrutiny. It mitigates legal risk at a time when whistleblower cases are on the rise and can be costly, financially and reputationally.

Developed in collaboration with ECG's valuation experts and experienced technologists, RangerFMV streamlines the creation, review, and storage of FMV opinions, enabling seamless internal collaboration and documentation. With a user-friendly interface and rigorous compliance standards, RangerFMV replaces slow, manual processes with expert-level precision—empowering healthcare organizations to confidently manage compensation compliance and make informed, defensible decisions.

Ranger FMV is part of the broader Ranger Suite, ECG's unified platform for managing provider compensation. With MD Ranger as the flagship product, the Ranger Suite enables users to automate FMV determinations, track internal policies, manage contracts and renewals, and collaborate with valuation experts—all within a secure, technology-driven environment. By reducing bottlenecks and dependency on external parties, the platform ensures that even complex provider arrangements are fully documented, defensible, and compliant.

"ECG has been advising on all matters related to the physician enterprise for over 50 years. It is long overdue that we bring user-friendly, physician-related tools to our clients so they can gain time and cost efficiency and become less reliant on traditional consulting services," said Chris Collins, CEO at ECG. "Backed by ECG's deep expertise, both tools have been battle tested through pilots with select clients and deliver measurable results that I believe will greatly benefit the market."
