This is BIGGER than patios and pillows. TPCCON is a cultural reset. It redefines rest, power, and outdoor luxury for women everywhere.”

Tara L. Paige, Founder of The Patio Chic Foundation

Patio Chic Conference (TPCCON) returns to the Loews Hotel & Convention Center in Arlington, Texas (888 Nolan Ryan Expy, Arlington, TX 76011), for its most powerful year yet. Created by outdoor living visionary Tara L. Paige, TPCCON is a national movement centered on empowering women to reclaim their spaces, elevate their voices, and nurture their whole selves—all through luxury, culture, and community.

Themed "Where Healing Meets Home: Breathe. Bloom. Belong.", this year's TPCCON features a dynamic mix of thought leadership, healing rituals, high-style events, and entrepreneurial innovation. With over 300 attendees expected, three major ticketed events, a sold-out VIP experience, and a showstopping gala honoring iconic women leaders, TPCCON 2025 is the lifestyle experience of the summer.

Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses is sponsoring this year's Business Executive Suite, a dedicated space within TPCCON designed for networking, learning, and resource sharing among women entrepreneurs and professionals. The initiative, which has supported thousands of small businesses nationwide with education and access to capital, brings both credibility and opportunity to attendees. Additionally, the Wealth Suite, powered by Prime One Loans, will offer financial tools, insights, and one-on-one support to help guests navigate wealth-building and capital access with confidence. The Arlington Convention & Visitors Bureau has also come on as a key sponsor, helping to anchor TPCCON in the heart of a business community that values innovation, inclusion, and regional impact. These partnerships not only enhance the experience for guests but also reflect the growing recognition of events like TPCCON as vital cultural and economic convenings.

The weekend begins Friday evening with the Self Care Soirée, a welcoming experience designed to ease guests into a restorative and joy-filled weekend. Wellness educator Stae Hall will lead a candid conversation centered on self-care and intentional living, while guests enjoy curated vendor activations, exclusive giveaways, and a hands-on DIY station hosted by The Patio Chic Foundation—where attendees can craft their own bath salts or tea blends. As the sun sets, the energy shifts for Patieaux After Dark, an intimate, soul-stirring session under the evening sky. This no-holds-barred conversation brings together bold, unapologetic voices to unpack truth, healing, and personal freedom. Featured speaker Dr. Faith Robertson, President of Project ELEVATE, will guide attendees through a deeply honest dialogue that encourages inner growth and emotional clarity. Together, these evening experiences set the tone for a transformative weekend rooted in authenticity, sisterhood, and renewal.
