What Are The Propulsion Factors Behind The Charcoal Market Growth?

A notable contributing factor to the growth of charcoal market is the ever-growing popularity of barbecued food. The practice of barbecuing involves cooking various foods, including vegetables, meat, fish and so on, over an open fire, and charcoal is a typical fuel choice due to its capacity to heat up quickly and impart a savoury, smoky flavor to the meal. The surge in barbecue food preparation has fueled the rise in charcoal usage significantly.
