"We are proud to partner with Hire Heroes USA to empower veterans in their job search with the Verified Veteran Badge," said Nate Otto, founder and CEO of Skybridge Skills. "By leveraging open-source technology from the Digital Credentials Consortium, we're ensuring that veterans can get a privacy-preserving, verifiable way to showcase their service as part of their job applications. This interoperable credential aligns with the Open Badges and Verifiable Credentials standards, making it compatible with a growing range of software and services that accept these Learning and Employment Records (LERs). Our goal is to remove barriers and enable veterans to receive the recognition they deserve in the hiring process while reducing verification costs for employers."
