"This merger is about more than just business. It's a strategic step toward creating equitable access to opportunity, while expanding our ability to serve cities and communities with smart, scalable, and sustainable infrastructure solutions."

Founded by Gabriel and Yolanda Abac, Kendu Construction has built a strong reputation for quality framing and structural woodwork in Oregon as a Minority Certified Company. With the formation of SOS Kendu, their legacy will now expand to include large-scale smart city projects, federal and state contracting, and a broader reach across North America.

"Partnering with SOS opens a new chapter for us," said Gabriel Abac, Co-Founder of Kendu Construction. "We now have the leadership, infrastructure, and technology to scale our impact—and we're committed to delivering excellence while uplifting minority voices in the Smart Infrastructure construction and renewable energy space."

SOS Kendu will operate as a certified Minority Business Enterprise (MBE) and will serve as the 'commercial' smart infrastructure construction and renewable energy arm of Smart Oregon Solutions with a focus on minority certified contracts. The division is already pursuing multi-million-dollar projects in the Pacific Northwest.

The new entity will be headquartered in Vancouver, Washington, with expanded warehouse and office space to support its growing team and product lines. As part of the integration, SOS Kendu will retain minority certification benefits while leveraging the financial strength, management systems, and innovation ecosystem of Smart Oregon Solutions.
