

Metro D.C. Church Construction Progress: Church of the Advent Renovation Led by Scott-Long Construction

CHANTILLY, VA, UNITED STATES, July 9, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Scott-Long Construction (SLC), a commercial construction company based in the Washington Metropolitan Region, announces progress to bring the historic Church of the Advent building in Washington, DC, up to safety and design standards.

The church construction project reflects the company's expertise in using period-appropriate building materials and techniques to maintain the historical integrity of the space, while updating it to meet the needs of today's congregation.

As part of the church's ongoing "For the City" campaign, SLC is working to restore the building to meet modern safety and accessibility standards while preserving its architectural beauty and historical significance.

Among the improvements to the building, the SLC team is upgrading the HVAC system and
