A Vision for Advancing Women's Health

The merger brings together two highly respected practices that share a common commitment to improving women's health. Both AGC and Gynecology Today have a rich history of providing high-quality care, and their shared vision to advance women's health in Arizona has paved the way for this exciting new chapter.

“Arizona Gynecology Consultants is proud to announce the merger between Dr. Kidd and her group at Gynecology

Today with our family of fellowship trained gynecologic surgeons and Advanced Practice Providers. She and her team are highly regarded in Scottsdale and her practice philosophy aligns with our vision and mission at Arizona Gynecology Consultants. Dr. Kidd and her team will continue to deliver the exceptional care they have always provided to their patients and will have the added services of an expanded network with experience navigating a challenging health care environment. This merger strengthens our unique model for gynecology-only medical practice support for providers and pathways for care for patients in our gynecologic private practice settings and partner surgical sites across the Phoenix area and rural communities."
