LEHI, NY, UNITED STATES, July 2, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- This Independence Day, the creators of the best-selling Tuttle Twins book series are helping families do more than just celebrate freedom—they're making it easier than ever to teach it. From July 1–10, 2025, Tuttle Twins is offering deeply discounted pricing on its acclaimed America's History book bundles and on the entire Tuttle Twins Academy, including a brand-new category of U.S. History video courses.

With only 13% of eighth graders proficient in American history—according to the National Assessment of Educational Progress—parents are increasingly seeking alternatives to the biased and shallow narratives found in most schools. Tuttle Twins is answering that call.

During the Independence Day Sale:

- The America's History 2-book bundle (including exclusive bonuses) is just $118.88 ($448 value).
- Single-book bundles are available for $68.88 ($216 value).
- The full Tuttle Twins Academy—covering a wide range of subjects including economics, entrepreneurship, and now U.S. history—is available for just $499 (lifetime access) or $269 (annual membership), down from regular prices of $559 and $299.

"We created these tools because America's founding principles—natural rights, self-governance, and personal responsibility—are being forgotten," said Connor Boyack, author of the Tuttle Twins series. "This sale is about equipping families to preserve those ideas and pass them on to the next generation."
