2290 Filing Tips:

1. You must have an EIN to file Form 2290; a Social Security Number is not acceptable. Since obtaining a new EIN can take several weeks, it's important to apply well in advance.
2. If you have 25 or more vehicles, electronic filing is required. However, even smaller fleets can benefit from the speed and convenience of e-filing.

3. In case your vehicles were sold, destroyed, or stolen, make sure to claim the appropriate credits or refunds to avoid overpaying taxes.

4. Ensure you file by the deadline to avoid penalties and interest. Timely filing is crucial, as proof of payment is required for truck registration.

2290 Key Deadline

The filing period is from July 1 to August 31, 2025, for the tax year July 1, 2025, through June 30, 2026. The 2290 deadline for vehicles used in July is August 31, 2025, and the Schedule 1 receipt is needed for renewal of vehicle registration.

Late filing incurs penalties of $22 per vehicle per month, while proration is available for vehicles first used after July, and exemptions apply to qualifying agricultural vehicles driven less than 7,500 miles annually.
