

Mission Critical Interior Solutions Inc. Named Title Partner for DCAC Austin 2025

DCAC Live is pleased to announce Mission Critical Interior Solutions Inc. (MCIS) as the Title Partner for DCAC Austin 2025.

AUSTIN, TX, UNITED STATES, July 2, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- DCAC Live is pleased to announce Mission Critical Interior Solutions Inc. (MCIS) as the Title Partner for DCAC Austin 2025. This year marks the 10th anniversary of DCAC, and the renewed partnership with MCIS carries special meaning.

MCIS provides core-and-shell and whitespace solutions for mission-critical environments. Their services include hot and cold aisle containment, raised access flooring, high-density ceiling systems, conveyance, security cages, and construction cleaning. The company supports the full construction lifecycle, from design and procurement through installation and maintenance. A commitment to service, discipline, and innovation drives MCIS.

“

As a Veteran- and Minority-owned business, partnering with DCAC Live is a natural fit. We're aligned not only in our technical focus but also in our values. ”

Alexis Knight, Marketing Director, MCIS

“As a Veteran- and Minority-owned business, partnering with DCAC Live is a natural fit. We're aligned not only in our technical focus but also in our values. Together, we're helping to shape the future of the data center industry, in a time where we are seeing unprecedented growth, while remaining committed to honoring and supporting the service and skill of our veteran workforce,” said Alexis Knight, Director of Marketing at MCIS.

The partnership reflects a shared focus on the future of digital infrastructure. As the industry adapts to rapid growth in AI, cloud computing, and high-density workloads, DCAC and MCIS are aligned on the need for smarter solutions and more inclusive conversations. Topics like speed to market, workforce development, and lifecycle value will be front and center at this year's event.

“The return of MCIS as a partner for the 10th anniversary of DCAC is significant,” said Kirk Offel, Founder of DCAC. “It’s a strong example of shared growth and continued alignment around industry innovation and values.”

DCAC Austin 2025 will be held this September, bringing together professionals from across the data center industry to share ideas, explore new technologies, and build lasting partnerships.
