Transforming the Marketing and Client Management Landscape

In the rapidly evolving digital economy, businesses of all sizes face mounting challenges in managing client relationships, consolidating marketing efforts, and automating sales processes. Traditionally, organizations have relied on a fragmented set of tools—each serving a specific function, often leading to increased costs, integration headaches, and missed opportunities for growth. GoHighLevel addresses these challenges by delivering a platform that brings together CRM, lead generation, appointment scheduling, funnel building, automation, analytics, and white-label SaaS capabilities under one roof.

Since its inception, GoHighLevel has become a preferred solution among marketing agencies, coaches, consultants, and solopreneurs seeking to simplify their operations while delivering measurable results for their clients. The platform is currently trusted by more than 60,000 customers and 1.4 million businesses globally, supporting over 622 million leads and facilitating upwards of 14.7 billion conversations to date.

Introducing the 30-Day Free Trial

Traditionally, GoHighLevel has offered a standard 14-day trial to new users. Responding to increasing demand for hands-on evaluation, the company now invites businesses to experience its full suite of capabilities for an extended 30-day period, at no cost and with no obligation to continue.

"Making the full GoHighLevel experience available for a full month reflects our commitment to transparency and customer success," said Shaun Clark, Chief Executive Officer at HighLevel. "We want agencies and business owners to see the immediate impact of centralized automation—how it can save time, cut costs, and drive real growth—without the pressure of a short trial window."

The 30-day trial grants complete access to both the Starter and Unlimited plans, allowing users to evaluate advanced features such as:

1. CRM and Pipeline Management: Track leads, manage opportunities, and visualize every stage of the sales funnel through customizable pipelines.

2. Multi-Channel Automation: Automate SMS, email, voicemail, and Facebook Messenger campaigns with powerful workflow builders and drip sequences.

3. Appointment Scheduling: Enable clients to book, confirm, and receive reminders for appointments, minimizing no-shows and manual coordination.

4. Landing Page and Funnel Builder: Design and launch high-converting landing pages, sales funnels, and even entire websites—no coding required.

5. Course and Membership Platform: Build and deliver online courses, manage memberships, and generate recurring revenue with integrated e-learning tools.

6. White-Label SaaS Capabilities: Agencies can fully rebrand the platform, offer it as a proprietary solution, and set custom pricing for their clients.

7. Reputation Management: Automate review requests, monitor feedback, and manage online presence to build trust with customers.

8. Payment Integration: Process payments seamlessly via Stripe integration for appointments, memberships, or sales pages.

9. Comprehensive Analytics: Real-time dashboards provide visibility into campaign performance, pipeline progress, and ROI metrics.

10. Unlimited Contacts and Users: Add as many users, clients, or sub-accounts as needed, with no restrictions.

11. Mobile App Access: Manage campaigns and client interactions from anywhere with the full-featured GoHighLevel mobile application.

12. API and Third-Party Integrations: Easily connect GoHighLevel to popular tools like Zapier, Zoom, Google Ads, and more.

Who Should Use GoHighLevel?

GoHighLevel was developed by marketers, for marketers—yet its intuitive, scalable design makes it equally valuable for coaches, consultants, freelancers, and any business with a need to manage leads, automate communications, and drive sales. Key use cases include:

- Digital Marketing Agencies: Manage multiple client accounts, automate recurring campaigns, and deliver white-label services from one platform.

- Consultants and Coaches: Streamline client onboarding, schedule appointments, and automate nurture sequences.

- E-Learning Providers: Host courses, manage memberships, and automate enrollments and payments.

- Service-Based Businesses: Automate appointment bookings, confirmations, and follow-ups to reduce administrative overhead.

"From the beginning, we designed GoHighLevel as a truly integrated platform to help businesses spend less time on manual tasks and more time growing their client relationships," said Shaun Clark, CEO. "Our customers use HighLevel to replace four or five separate tools—reducing both expenses and complexity."

Detailed Feature Highlights

1. CRM and Contact Management:
At the core of GoHighLevel is a flexible CRM that captures all client interactions, lead information, and sales activity in one place. Users can segment contacts, apply tags, assign tasks, and move prospects through custom sales stages, enhancing visibility and improving conversion rates.

2. Automation and Workflows:
GoHighLevel's drag-and-drop workflow builder allows users to automate routine communications—sending personalized emails, texts, or voicemails based on lead actions or time-based triggers. Advanced users can create multi-step campaigns that adapt based on recipient responses, ensuring leads are nurtured and followed up with efficiently.

3. Funnel and Website Builder:
With no coding required, agencies and business owners can design responsive websites, sales funnels, and opt-in pages to capture leads and drive conversions. Templates are available to speed up deployment, and all landing pages are fully integrated with the CRM and automation engines.

4. Reputation and Review Management:
GoHighLevel makes it simple to request, track, and manage client reviews on platforms like Google, enhancing online reputation and search visibility.

5. White-Label and SaaS Mode:
Available on the Unlimited plan, agencies can fully white-label the GoHighLevel interface, offering a customized software solution under their own brand. This includes personalized domains, branding elements, and the ability to resell the platform as a monthly subscription.

6. Analytics and Reporting:
The real-time analytics dashboard gives a comprehensive overview of marketing performance, from lead acquisition to sales closed. Users can track every campaign, see where prospects are dropping off, and optimize for better ROI.

7. Mobile App:
Manage leads, respond to messages, monitor pipelines, and track appointments on the go via the GoHighLevel mobile app, available for iOS and Android.

8. Third-Party Integrations:
Connect GoHighLevel with existing tools and workflows using built-in integrations for Stripe, Zapier, Google Ads, Zoom, Facebook, and more. For advanced automation, API access is included.

9. Support and Resources
GoHighLevel provides 24/7 global support through live chat, email, and phone channels. An extensive library of help articles, onboarding videos, and how-to guides assists users in making the most of the platform from day one. Dedicated onboarding specialists are available for agencies and enterprise clients seeking a more hands-on implementation process.

Transparent Pricing After the 30-Day Trial

Upon completion of the 30-day free trial, users can select the plan that best fits their needs. GoHighLevel offers two main subscription tiers:
