veterans deserve priority when it comes to protecting their homes with safe electrical panels. We are excited to stand beside them and provide top-notch service at a fair price.”

A Mission Rooted in Service

Founded on the principles of integrity, quality craftsmanship, and military-inspired discipline, Vetcon Electricians of Ocala has built a reputation for delivering fast, professional, and trustworthy electrical services throughout Ocala and surrounding areas. From routine electrical repairs to full-service panel upgrades, lighting installations, new construction wiring, and emergency electrical services, Vetcon’s team of licensed electricians brings decades of experience to every project.

With its expansion to Gainesville, Vetcon aims to address a growing need for dependable, honest electrical contractors in Alachua County. Gainesville’s rapidly developing residential neighborhoods and thriving business community have created significant demand for electrical panel change-outs and upgrades, especially as many properties age and face stricter safety standards.

According to the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), outdated or overloaded electrical panels are among the leading causes of electrical fires nationwide. Vetcon Electricians of Ocala believes no veteran or homeowner should have to risk living with unsafe or outdated equipment. Their team is trained to evaluate, upgrade, and replace outdated panels quickly, efficiently, and in compliance with the latest codes.

Supporting Veterans with More Than Words

As a veteran-owned business, Vetcon understands the value of supporting veterans beyond simple appreciation. The company actively seeks to hire veterans whenever possible and prioritizes veteran discounts and programs that give back to those who served.

Freddie Hooker added:

“For us, the discount is more than a marketing strategy — it is a way to live out our values. We respect our veterans, and we want to make their lives easier in any way we can. Offering 15% off panel upgrades is one small way to give back.”

Why Gainesville?

Gainesville has seen steady growth in both population and infrastructure, fueled in part by its proximity to the University of Florida and its diverse economy. The city's mix of historic homes, new construction, and commercial facilities creates a broad need for qualified electricians who can address both aging systems and new installations.

"Gainesville is a perfect fit for us," Hooker explained. "It has a proud veteran community, and it is growing fast. We want to help keep its residents safe and power up the future of its local businesses."

Vetcon's team is fully equipped to handle projects of all sizes, from single-family homes to large-scale commercial renovations. With safety and reliability at the heart of their operations, Vetcon Electricians of Ocala is ready to deliver the same exceptional quality to Gainesville that their Ocala customers have trusted for years.

Community Partnerships

In addition to expanding their services, Vetcon Electricians plans to partner with local veteran organizations and community groups in Gainesville to help identify veterans in need of safe, code-compliant panel upgrades. By working directly with these organizations, Vetcon hopes to reach homeowners who might otherwise put off critical repairs due to financial constraints.

"Partnering with veteran nonprofits and community leaders allows us to extend our mission even further," Hooker noted. "We want veterans to know they have a friend in the electrical business — someone who will treat their homes as if they were our own."

Looking Ahead

As Vetcon Electricians of Ocala expands into Gainesville, their leadership is committed to keeping the same personal, community-driven approach that made them successful. The company pledges to build strong, lasting relationships with Gainesville residents while prioritizing education about electrical safety and code requirements.

Homeowners and business owners in Gainesville can now contact Vetcon Electricians of Ocala for consultations, estimates, and emergency services.
