Prime 1 Studio is now accepting pre-orders for the latest entry in its Throne Legacy series, "Superman Fortress of Solitude on Throne (Design by Gabriele Dell'Otto)."

This statue depicts Superman seated upon the throne within the Fortress of Solitude. The design concept was developed by comic artist Gabriele Dell'Otto. Elements such as the composed posture and the layered crystal structure have been faithfully brought into three dimensions through meticulous sculpting and paintwork.

The statue captures Superman's muscular physique and classic suit with richly detailed textures. His forward-facing portrait was crafted to reflect both his heroic resolve and the solitude of living as an alien among humans. The crystal base features built-in LED illumination to enhance its lighting and surface effects.

On the reverse side, a monument portrays his parents, Jor-El and Lara, with Superman flying between them. The composition symbolically expresses themes of family bonds and nostalgic ties to Krypton.

The statue comes with three interchangeable portraits inspired by Superman's appearances in the 1970s, 2000s, and 2010s. Two versions of the iconic "S" emblem and a head stand are also included, offering a variety of display options.
