Below are just a few of the many positive testimonials from patients who were highly impressed by Dr. Androsov's communication and exceptional care:

"Dr. Androsov is great. I immediately felt welcomed and at home from the moment I stepped into her office. She listened attentively to everything I had to say and welcomed any and all questions about her feedback and recommendations. She was easy to talk to and explained things very well. I am so happy I found her. I was hesitant at first just because my insurance won't cover anything, but it's worth it to have someone that you know genuinely wants to help you get to the root cause of your symptoms and work together to get my health back on track."

"Dr. Melissa suggested functional testing to create a targeted plan to alleviate various symptoms I had due to aging. Within a week of following her plan I felt like a completely different person with much more energy and feeling more rested with increased sleep. She takes the time to understand your issues in depth and has a wealth of knowledge about the body, hormones, and which supplements provide the best support to naturally enable your body to function at its best. I highly recommend scheduling time if you want a natural approach to feeling your best mentally and physically."

"Dr. Androsov took the time to listen to my concerns, address my questions, and develop a personalized treatment plan that truly addressed my needs. All while quickly getting my diagnosis. She was thorough, compassionate, and knowledgeable. I finally have answers and a path forward. Highly recommend!"

"Melissa is amazing! I went to see her for naturopathic medicine after I developed an autoimmune condition. She took time to understand my health and get to the root of the problem. She's also amazing with communication, goes above and beyond, and really cares. Thank you, Melissa!"

Dr. Androsov consistently goes above and beyond to ensure outstanding, holistic, patient-centered care for every patient.
