INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MAGAZINE AWARDS 2025

International Business Magazine Award Ceremony 2025 will be attended by elite professionals, prominent business tycoons, prominent global personalities and off course the winners from their respective fields

This year, awards in various sectors have put the spotlight on global banks, insurance companies, trading platforms, nonbanking financial platforms, fintech companies, and other businesses. The winners have proved that positive changes can be implemented in a sector by following traditional business models and integrating new technologies. New insurance policies and flexible loan plans have bridged the gap between international banks, insurance companies, and underserved/underprivileged communities/SMEs. Banks have also brought a positive change by introducing payment processes that helped customers do business transactions efficiently and securely in less time.

This year's entries have the largest number of nominations from financial and trading platforms that used recent technologies to reshape their business operations with speed and transparency. From offering useful tips in the form of simple data to help customers make the best decisions, and making use of the recent tools, companies have made their loyal audience generate revenue in their passionate field.

This award ceremony will serve as a powerful testament to the inspiring leaders who shape the corporate sector and acknowledge their significant influence.”
