

Napa Valley Boutique Wine Producers Offering Collective Tasting Experience

New Arrow&Branch Winery is now showcasing collective tastings of diverse wines from four limited-production brands

NAPA VALLEY, CA, UNITED STATES, July 15, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Visitors to Napa Valley wine country can now conveniently and privately savor five different boutique wines from four limited-production brands by appointment at the new Arrow&Branch Winery (www.ArrowAndBranchWinery.com) just south of Yountville, California.

In addition to the acclaimed Arrow&Branch wines, the collective experience features wines from Gallica, the personal label of admired winemaker Rosemary Cakebread; Coronet, the newest label from the Arrow&Branch Winery proprietors and Winemaker/Partner Jennifer Williams; and B True, a collaboration between proprietor Bill True and winemaker Brian Graham.

The initial collective tastings experience at Napa Valley's Arrow&Branch Winery will offer pours of five different boutique wines from limited-production vintners B True, Gallica, Arrow&Branch, and Coronet.

All four brands are limited-production vintners whose elegant wines are rarely available outside their allocation lists.

"Our Arrow&Branch Winery facility opened last year and provides custom crush services for a small group of highly regarded producers. These tastings offer a window into the artistry of boutique winemaking and give guests a unique way to explore Napa Valley's hidden gems all in one place," Contursi explained.

The initial collective tastings now offered feature pours from these five wines, with additional producers to be announced in the fall.
