

Tractor Tuesday Launches Daily Deals – A Revolutionary Retail Marketplace for Farm Machinery

Tractor Tuesday unveils Daily Deals, a commission-only retail platform giving dealers a smarter, performance-driven way to sell farm equipment.

HASTINGS, NE, UNITED STATES, July 22, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tractor Tuesday, the team behind the breakout success of its 2024 farm machinery auction platform, is proud to unveil Daily Deals, a bold new retail marketplace designed to transform the way agricultural equipment is bought and sold.

Daily Deals Marketplace

Currently available through a pilot program with select dealerships, Daily Deals offers a transparent, value-driven model: no listing fees - just a success-based commission. Unlike traditional platforms that profit regardless of sale outcome, Tractor Tuesday only earns when its dealership partners do. This performance-based model creates true alignment between the platform and the seller.

the company’s own digital publishing channels, including the world’s largest agricultural news aggregator.

“We’re not just building another listing site. We’re creating the next generation of equipment sales,” said Zach Bosle, CEO of Tractor Tuesday. “Daily Deals gives dealerships a smarter, more dynamic way to move inventory, with listings that are easily converted to auction. It’s about giving sellers and buyers the tools they need to compete more effectively in today’s digital landscape. This marks our shift from a traditional marketplace model to a full-scale digital publishing platform, and we're excited to launch with four standout partners who share that vision, with over eleven other dealerships ready to come on board."

Buyers will find a curated selection of high-quality agricultural equipment — from tractors and harvesters to planters, tillage tools, hay equipment, and more — all vetted to meet Tractor Tuesday's strict retail standards for condition, quality, and value. Currently, there are hundreds of listings, but Tractor Tuesday expects to have thousands more in August.

Dealerships interested in participating in the pilot and buyers ready to explore premium equipment at great value can visit www.tractortuesday.com for more information.
