The goal of Threat Intelligence Lookup is to help ensure better protection against cyber threats for companies by simplifying and accelerating malware investigations. This service allows analysts with a solution to tap into relevant data to gain insights into cyber threats.

It includes Indicators of Compromise (IOC), Attack (IOA), and Behavior (IOB). They come from threat investigations made by 15,000 companies in finance, manufacturing, transportation, government, and other industries.

Threat Intelligence Lookup's free version provides limited functionality, which is enough to achieve impact in security operations.
