Marquis Who's Who in America has announced that it has included Chris Vandersluis, the President of HMS Software in its directory.

MONTREAL, QUEBEC, CANADA, July 16, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Marquis Who's Who in America has announced that it has added Chris Vandersluis, President of HMS Software to their iconic directory. As in all Marquis Who's Who biographical volumes, individuals profiled are selected on the basis of current reference value. Factors such as position, noteworthy accomplishments, visibility, and prominence in a field are all taken into account during the selection process.

Marquis Who's Who indicated that Mr. Vandersluis was selected because he has earned a distinguished reputation in the project management software sector. He has excelled as the co-founder and chief executive officer of HMS Software, where since 1984, he played a key role in handling business operations, working closely with the development team and overseeing marketing, sales and administration. Notably, Mr. Vandersluis's signature approach to leadership has proven pivotal in elevating the HMS Software brand and establishing the firm as a leader in its field. HMS Software is known in the industry for the publication of the popular TimeControl timesheet system.

The listing in Marquis Who's Who identified Mr. Vandersluis's role in creating partnerships with Microsoft and Oracle and in the creation of US-based EPM Guidance.

Additional information in the biography of Mr. Vandersluis highlighted his work in the publication of TimeControl, a project management-based timesheet system that has been adopted by global organizations such as AMD, Azuria Water Solutions, Gunnison and EXFO, as one of his most notable achievement and his impact on the industry and ability to innovate within a specific market niche.

Who's Who noted that Mr. Vandersluis has been a prolific writer in the industry and has been published over 200 times in such publications as FORTUNE magazine, PMI's PMNetwork magazine, Microsoft's Technet, and the AMA Handbook of Project Management. He was a columnist for Computing Canada Magazine from 1994 to 2005 and PMNetwork Magazine from 2000 to 2003.
