This premier gathering brings together an elite circle of CFI executives for high-level networking, knowledge exchange, and collaborative learning, all with the goal of driving growth and innovation within community financial institutions.

Set in the awe-inspiring Teton Village, Wyoming, this year's summit represents more than a leadership retreat – it's where innovation meets inspiration in one of the most breathtaking settings on Earth.

"The challenges facing CFI leaders today demand more than traditional thinking," said Ashish Garg, Co-founder and CEO of Eltropy. "When you combine strategic minds with an environment that naturally elevates perspective, remarkable conversations happen. This summit is designed to spark those breakthrough moments that shape the future of community banking."

Held at the stunning Hotel Terra Jackson Hole in Teton Village, Wyoming, the summit combines the serene beauty of the mountains with top-tier amenities, creating the perfect setting for leadership development and strategic networking.

The three-day program opens Monday evening with a welcome reception and dinner at Rendezvous Lodge, located at 9,095 feet and accessible via the Bridger Gondola for stunning views of Rendezvous Peak and the Jackson Hole Valley.

Tuesday's program features strategic sessions including "Filene's Top Trends in Action: Strategic Implementation for Credit Unions" with a case study from Credit Union of Texas; and "Seismic Events, Tectonic Change: Why Strategic Considerations for Banks and Credit Unions Increasingly Include the Role of Merger." Additional sessions will explore data intelligence, member lifecycle redesign, workforce disruption, and technology sovereignty.

The summit concludes Wednesday with sessions on deposit and lending competitiveness, modern collections and payments systems, and a closing keynote on "Innovation With Purpose" that challenges CFI leaders to rise above vendor noise and invest with strategic intent.

"We're not just talking about the future of community banking — we're actively shaping it," added Garg. "The conversations that happen in Teton Village will influence how CFIs serve their communities for years to come."

The exclusive experience includes hotel accommodations, meals, and choice of adventure activities set against Wyoming's dramatic landscape.

Registration fee includes hotel stay and one activity of choice. Space is deliberately limited to maintain the intimate, high-impact nature of the gathering.
