The best recruiters are career partners—advisors who help attorneys navigate inflection points across their careers.”

boutique legal search firm based in Seattle, has been featured in the Legal Recruiter Directory's Recruiter Spotlight for July 2025, a national platform recognizing top legal recruiting professionals across the United States. The profile highlights founder Saul Gamoran's strategic, relationship-driven approach to partner-level placements and team transitions throughout the Pacific Northwest and beyond.

With experience spanning private practice, in-house counsel roles, and nearly two decades in legal search, Gamoran offers law firms and legal departments a comprehensive perspective on legal talent acquisition. His consultative style, combined with deep market insight, has made Gamoran Legal Consulting a trusted advisor to clients in Seattle, Portland, and other growth markets.

The spotlight also explores emerging legal hiring trends in the region, including an uptick in national firm expansion, greater competition for lateral partners, and the growing importance of aligning opportunities with attorneys' long-term goals. Gamoran emphasizes that interviews must be a two-way conversation—where firms don't just assess talent, but also present compelling reasons for lawyers to join.

Recent examples include Ballard Spahr's merger with Seattle-based Lane Powell in late 2024 and Holland & Knight's entry into the Seattle market in early 2025 through a team acquisition from Karr Tuttle. These moves reflect increased lateral activity and national interest in the Pacific Northwest legal market.
