Statements from the Co-founders of Devyzz Sport

Sébastien Haller, Chief Sports Ambassador :

“As a player, I’ve seen how financial matters can become a barrier at crucial moments in a career or transfer. With Devyzz Sport, I want to contribute to greater clarity, support, and peace of mind for sports professionals. It’s my way of giving back to a world that has given me so much, through a concrete and meaningful project aligned with values of performance and high standards that resonate with me.”

Clément Maignen, Chief Dealing & Execution Officer :

“Elite sport is, by nature, demanding and international. Yet its professionals still lack access to international payment solutions that match the scale of their challenges, the sums involved, and their status. With Devyzz Sport, our ambition is clear: to offer them the same level of rigor and performance in managing their international financial flows as they strive for every day on the field.”

Salim Hadji, Chief Sales Officer :

“Having Sébastien Haller join the venture is a true source of pride and a powerful catalyst to raise awareness of Devyzz Sport among professional sports stakeholders. Too many athletes, clubs, and agents continue to pay exorbitant fees due to a lack of alternatives to traditional banking channels. With Devyzz Sport, we want to offer them a solution designed for their reality: simpler, faster, and above all, fairer.”
