

Construction Corps Provides Emergency Aid and Pro Bono Repairs After Hurricanes Helene and Milton

CLEARWATER, FL, UNITED STATES, September 9, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In the wake of Hurricanes Helene and Milton, Construction Corps has stepped up with a wide-reaching effort to support Pinellas County residents—providing critical aid, pro-bono construction services, and essential disaster relief equipment to families devastated by storm damage.

With a commitment to goodwill and community resilience, Construction Corps:

- Helped four homes entirely free of charge. Demolition, mold remediation, and reconstruction was done, for families whose homes were destroyed or severely damaged.

- Donated and delivered sanitization kits to homeowners in Clearwater Beach dealing with post-storm health hazards.

- Loaned out vital equipment—including air scrubbers, dehumidifiers, sump pumps, fans, and generators—to residents who could not afford inflated market prices for storm recovery tools.
- Removed debris and damaged furniture from homes free of charge, helping homeowners begin the cleanup process

Corps purchased 8 generators and immediately delivered them to homes in Clearwater where the power had not yet been restored.

“Our company was built on values of integrity, action, and service,” said Serena Lorien, VP of Construction Corps. “In times of crisis, it’s not just about business—it’s about doing what’s right. We’re proud to serve our community when it matters most.”

Construction Corps is a Veteran-Owned, award-winning firm with over 30 years of experience. Known for its elite residential and commercial projects, the company is also deeply committed to social impact and local outreach.
