For patients of Happy Tooth, this achievement means even more advanced, comprehensive care from a dentist who is deeply committed to excellence in her profession and in the well-being of her patients.

“Our patients deserve to receive care from a dental team that is always striving to improve, and this fellowship shows that our commitment to learning and growth never stops,” says Dr. Augustyn. “This isn’t just about earning a designation, it’s about ensuring every patient receives care that reflects the latest advancements and best practices in dentistry.”

The FAGD is one of the most respected designations in general dentistry, recognizing dentists who go above and beyond basic licensing requirements to deliver the highest standard of care. To earn the FAGD, Dr. Augustyn completed more than 500 hours of continuing dental education and passed a rigorous 400-question examination covering all aspects of dentistry, from preventive care to complex restorative procedures.

“Earning the FAGD reflects my belief that our patients deserve the best care possible, and that means always continuing to learn,” says Dr. Augustyn. “Dental techniques and technology are always evolving, and this helps me bring the most up-to-date care to every appointment.” The Academy of General Dentistry (AGD) is a professional association of more than 40,000 general dentists dedicated to lifelong learning and quality patient care. The FAGD designation signals to patients that their dentist is dedicated to staying at the forefront of dental medicine.

Patients at Happy Tooth can feel confident that Dr. Augustyn's additional training enables her to offer a full range of general and advanced dental services with skill, precision, and compassion.
