

The Arc of Warren County & Habitat for Humanity Northwest New Jersey launch strategic partnership to benefit Camp Warren

The Arc of Warren County and Habitat for Humanity Northwest New Jersey announce unique partnership to begin this summer titled Living Harmony at Camp Warren.

WASHINGTON, NJ, UNITED STATES, July 23, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Arc of Warren County and Habitat for Humanity Northwest New Jersey have embarked on a unique partnership that will commence this summer. The project is titled Living Harmony at Camp Warren and it will greatly benefit Camp Warren and The Arc of Warren County.

Beginning this summer, Habitat for Humanity Northwest Jersey will provide their expertise and labor to replace six of the eight floors for the cabins at Camp Warren, which is a Camp that is run by The Arc of Warren County that is located in Knowlton Township, NJ. The Camp has been providing quality camping experience for children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities since 1962. Campers enjoy fun-filled days packed with programs including swimming, music, sports and games, group activities and more.

In addition, Spectrum of Floors in Easton, Pennsylvania is donating the majority of the supplies along with additional labor. As a result, this project saves the Agency over $20,000 to complete these much-needed renovations.

This opportunity was spearheaded by Kyle Stuber, Director of Development at Habitat for Humanity Northwest Jersey and Ben Eskow, CEO.

The Arc of Warren County and Habitat for Humanity Northwest New Jersey Partner Together

“We don’t just build homes alongside our Partner Families at Habitat NWNJ but also put God’s Love into action by building up our community,” says Kyle Stuber, Director of Development at Habitat for Humanity Northwest New Jersey. “Identifying local impact organizations to partner with fortifies this missional pillar for us and The Arc of Warren County absolutely demonstrates this shared commitment to uplifting our neighbors in need with their compassionate services. It is an honor to work alongside The Arc on this project wherein the expertise that fuels our quality home builds and repairs at Habitat Northwest New Jersey can help restore the memory-making cabins of Camp Warren for future generations.”

The Living Harmony at Camp Warren project helps solidify a program that truly changes lives, thereby bolstering our shared community – there’s no better way to spend these summer days!”

This generous opportunity is so appreciated by the administration and The Board of Directors from The Arc of Warren County.

“The Agency, in general, has never embarked on an opportunity like this,” says John Whitehead, CEO of The Arc of Warren County. “The floors in our cabins are very worn and need to be replaced, but these projects are so costly. The fact that Habitat for Humanity Northwest New Jersey is donating their time and expertise and Spectrum of Floors of Easton is gifting us with the majority of the materials and additional labor is an incredible benefit to Camp Warren and our campers.”

The relationship between the two local nonprofit organizations has spanned several years with both organizations serving as a support to the other.

“It is important for local nonprofits to find ways to support each other,” Kyle Stuber of Habitat Northwest New Jersey notes, “as we understand those daily challenges and can offer form-fitted solutions, with empathy. The Living Harmony at Camp Warren project helps solidify a program that truly changes lives, thereby bolstering our shared community – there’s no better way to spend these summer days!”
