

MAKE Wellness Reports $10 Million in Monthly Revenue During First Year

Health and nutrition company cites customer demand for peptide-based supplements as a key factor in reaching milestone.

ST. GEORGE, UT, UNITED STATES, July 21, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MAKE Wellness announced today that it has reached $10 million in monthly gross revenue within its first year of operations. The company attributes this milestone to customer demand for its nutritional supplements and the adoption of its product line across its community network.

Justin Serra, CEO of MAKE Wellness

Founded in late 2024, MAKE Wellness introduced its initial products during a three-day launch event called “MAKE ONE.” Prior to the public launch, the company shipped 100,000 orders within its pre-launch period. According to MAKE Wellness, order volume and repeat purchases have continued to grow since that time.

This milestone reflects the progress made in our first year and the dedication of our team and community.”

Justin Serra, CEO

“Our first-year performance reflects the efforts of our team and the support of our customers,” said Chief Executive Officer Justin Serra. “We remain focused on advancing our product research and supporting individuals in their approach to wellness.”

MAKE Wellness offers nutritional supplements developed with bioactive peptides and plant-based ingredients. The company states that its approach emphasizes research-based formulations designed to support general health and well-being.
