

GreySolve Consulting Launches PetJumper: A New AI-Driven Tool for Pet-Friendly Flight Searches

FRISCO, TX, UNITED STATES, July 22, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- GreySolve Consulting is pleased to announce the launch of PetJumper.com, an AI-powered website designed to assist travelers in identifying pet-friendly flight options. The platform is among the first to provide a centralized, automated solution for pet owners seeking clarity on airline pet travel policies and availability.

Created by GreySolve Consulting, a digital automation firm based in Frisco, Texas, PetJumper uses artificial intelligence to analyze and organize information related to pet travel accommodations. The platform allows users to filter and compare flights based on airline pet policies, cabin or cargo eligibility, pet fees, and route constraints. This tool addresses the complexity and fragmentation that often characterize pet-related travel planning.

"There has been a longstanding need for a platform that simplifies allowing pet owners to find the pet-friendly flights that work best for them all on one screen," says Darrick Richardson, Chief of Product at GreySolve Consulting. "PetJumper was developed to improve access to this information in a practical and efficient way."

At its core, GreySolve Consulting specializes in creating digital tools and platforms that aim to solve specific operational and logistical challenges for businesses and individuals. With prior consulting experience in sectors such as healthcare and financial services, the company focuses on automation, systems integration, and scalable workflows.

PetJumper reflects GreySolve's broader approach to digital problem-solving, emphasizing functionality, accessibility, and targeted user experience.
