professional truck drivers, our new West Monroe campus allows us to train more students locally and connect them with meaningful, high-paying career opportunities,” said Barry Busada, Senior Vice President of Diesel Driving Academy. “We look forward to serving the West Monroe community and helping meet the workforce needs of regional and national carriers.”

The West Monroe campus features classroom instruction, a dedicated training yard, and experienced instructors committed to preparing students for success behind the wheel.

DDA’s career services team also supports job placement with local, regional, and national carriers who actively recruit DDA graduates.

Founded in the 1970s, Diesel Driving Academy is one of the most well-known brands in all of Louisiana. Their iconic jingle, great-looking white and green trucks, and thousands of successful graduates have earned them many accolades in the trucking industry. West Monroe is the third Louisiana campus, joining additional campuses in Baton Rouge and Shreveport.
