

OneAdvanced wins Ministry of Justice contract to support prisoner education

UNITED KINGDOM, July 23, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- OneAdvanced, a leading provider of sector-focussed software, has been awarded a landmark contract worth £1.2 million with the Ministry of Justice (MoJ) for its innovative Assessment and Learning solution (previously known as bksb). This initial four-year contract is set to revolutionise skills development programmes across 104 adult prisons in England.

By providing accurate assessments through our software, we are not only enabling better education but empowering individuals to rebuild their futures with meaningful skills."

The OneAdvanced Assessment and Learning Solution will support the wider transformation efforts in education delivery as part of MoJ's new Prisoner Education Service. It will help the MoJ improve the accuracy and consistency of educational evaluations for prisoners across England through AI-powered screening and assessment. This essential step will ensure learners and staff can identify the appropriate education, skills training, and work activities.

The partnership is set to support the development of critical functional maths, english and digital skills, enhancing learner attainment with personalised learning pathways. This will foster better rehabilitation outcomes and future employability opportunities for those being released from prison.

The decision to award this contract to OneAdvanced follows a comprehensive and competitive tender process, and demonstrates the Ministry of Justice's strategic commitment to progress through modern technology. OneAdvanced's proven expertise in education software and its customer-focused approach were key factors in securing this partnership.
