

MSHE Foundation Hosts Free Teacher Resources Webinar on August 26 Featuring Speakers from Six Million Voices and Sharaka

Virtual event offers classroom-ready Holocaust education tools and insights into the 2025 MSHE Foundation Teacher Grant Program

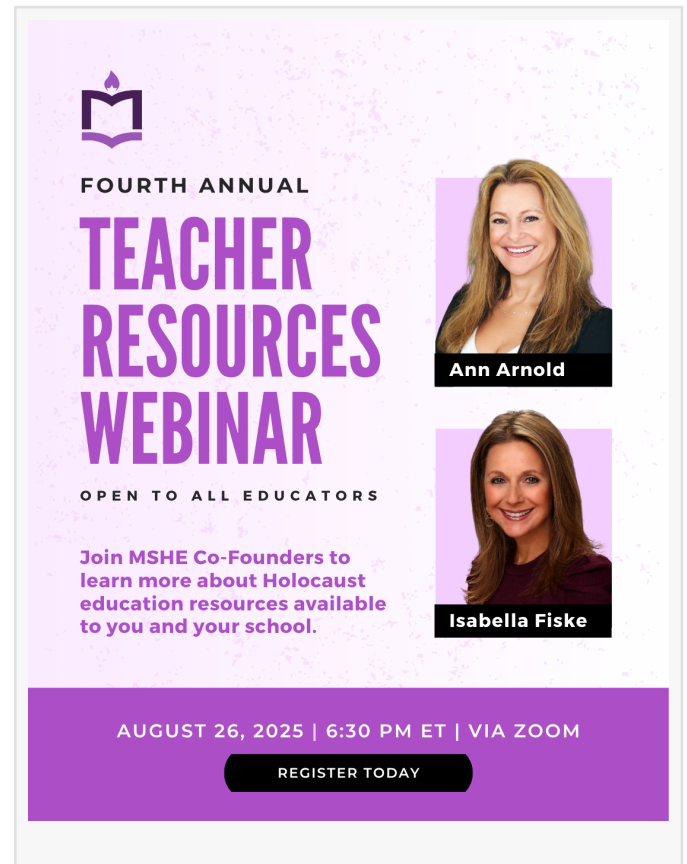

LIVINGSTON, NJ, UNITED STATES, July 23, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Mark Schonwetter Holocaust Education Foundation (MSHEF) is proud to announce its 4th Annual Teacher Resources Webinar, taking place virtually on Tuesday, August 26 at 6:30 PM ET. This free online event is open to educators nationwide and focuses on practical tools, new resources, and expert guidance for implementing Holocaust education in meaningful and age-appropriate ways.

This year's webinar will feature two guest speakers advancing Holocaust education through innovative and international approaches:

Michael Beyo, Founder & CEO of Six Million Voices, an organization using immersive technology and storytelling to preserve and share Holocaust survivor testimonies.

Alyssa Annis, Holocaust Education Program Manager at Sharaka, a nonprofit dedicated to fostering intercultural understanding and expanding Holocaust education efforts across the Middle East and beyond.

Attendees will also gain valuable insights into the 2025 MSHEF Teacher Grant Program, including application tips, eligibility guidelines, and how the Mark Schonwetter Holocaust Education Foundation can support classroom initiatives through funding for books, field trips, museum visits, and other educational experiences. The grant application portal for the 2025–26 school year opens August 18, 2025.
