PUMP/USDT is now live and available for trading on YEX.io.

This listing supports YEX.io's broader strategy of increasing access to emerging, community-led digital assets that reflect trends in decentralized finance and blockchain innovation.

□ Overview of Pump.fun

Pump.fun is a decentralized application on the Solana blockchain that enables users to launch meme tokens without requiring coding experience or external funding. The platform has seen widespread usage due to its low barriers to entry and real-time bonding curve mechanics that determine token pricing.

The PUMP token acts as a utility asset within the Pump.fun platform, offering holders access to additional discovery tools, curated features, and platform engagement capabilities. It is positioned as a functional asset within a growing ecosystem focused on decentralized creativity and experimentation.
