Our video contest offers students passionate about combating teen suicide the opportunity to gain recognition and be featured in a professionally produced version of their work, broadcast statewide.”

Franki Moscato

A panel of mental health experts will judge the top videos and choose a winner that best deglamorizes and destigmatizes teen suicide in their video.

Authors of the winning video will be invited to participate as cast members in a professionally directed and produced version of their video, to be broadcast across Wisconsin airwaves and media outlets, including television, radio, and social media.

Students are encouraged to work with parents, and teachers--drama, film, counselors, et al. Videos must adhere to specific guidelines and be created by students who are current residents of the state of Wisconsin. The submission deadline is November 1st, 2025.
