Wynne brings extensive experience in intellectual property litigation and counseling with an emphasis on patent disputes involving complex technologies in the sectors of oil and gas, telecommunications, eCommerce, and more. He has litigated over 150 IP cases throughout his career, representing both IP owners and parties accused of infringement in federal district courts and before administrative agencies including the U.S. International Trade Commission and U.S. Patent & Trademark Office.

Prior to his legal career, Wynne worked as a systems engineer in the defense industry, where among other roles, he served as a team lead in the preliminary design for what became the RQ-4 Global Hawk unmanned aerial reconnaissance system. He earned his J.D. with highest honors from the University of Oklahoma College of Law and a B.S. in Aeronautical Engineering from California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo.

“Rich’s arrival marks an exciting milestone for our firm,” said CEO and Founder Darin M. Klemchuk. “We have long admired his exceptional reputation in the IP community and his impressive track record of success in complex patent litigation. His unique combination of engineering knowledge and legal excellence will provide tremendous value to our clients as we continue to expand our litigation practice.”

Klemchuk PLLC is a leading litigation, intellectual property, and business law firm based in Dallas, Texas. With a focus on customer service, the firm assists clients in safeguarding innovation and expanding market share through strategic investments in IP.
