

MoonPay is Now Integrated into Brainwallet® for a Seamless User Experience

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, July 30, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Brainwallet®, the revolutionary self-hosted cryptocurrency wallet developed by Grunt Software, is proud to announce its new integration with MoonPay. This partnership enables users to seamlessly purchase and top up Litecoin (LTC) directly within the Brainwallet app — all in just minutes.

Streamlined Integration for Maximum Convenience: The integration delivers a tight, fully embedded experience, eliminating the need for external exchanges or additional apps. Users can now stack and hodl their Litecoin holdings quickly and securely, all within Brainwallet's intuitive interface.

Key Benefits:

- Tight Integration: MoonPay services are directly built into Brainwallet for a smooth, unified user experience.
- Stack and Hodl: Purchase LTC instantly and store it securely in your self-hosted wallet.
- No Open Buy: All transactions are completed instantly with up-to-date buy quotes.
- Real-Time Quotes: Access the latest market prices for transparent, fair purchasing.
- 24/7 Customer Support: Around-the-clock assistance for all wallet and MoonPay-related questions.

The MoonPay integration is live and available to Brainwallet users worldwide starting today. For more information and to start topping up your Litecoin, visit www.brainwallet.co.

A Word from the Team "By integrating MoonPay, we're making it even easier for our global user base to acquire and manage Litecoin," said Kerry Washington, CEO of Grunt Software and creator of Brainwallet. "This partnership aligns perfectly with our mission to simplify crypto ownership while maintaining the highest standards of security and control."

"We're excited to partner with Brainwallet and help bring seamless crypto access to even more people," said Ivan Soto-Wright, CEO and Co-founder of MoonPay. "Our shared focus on simplicity and security makes this integration a natural fit for both our communities."
