

Harsha Saxena, Founder and CEO IICSR Expands Climate Frontiers with IICSR's Europe Edition of Sustainability Dialogues

Harsha Saxena, Founder and CEO IICSR launches Europe Edition of Sustainability Dialogues to unite global leaders for bold, collaborative climate action.

PALO ALTO, CA, UNITED STATES, July 29, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The International Institute of Corporate Sustainability and Responsibility (IICSR), one of the world's leading institutions in sustainability education and corporate ESG transformation, has announced the European edition of its signature event series – Sustainability Dialogues and IICSRians Meet and Greet.

Slated to take place across six European cities, the series is a community-building initiative designed to foster collaboration, exchange knowledge, and accelerate action in areas of sustainability, ESG (Environmental, Social, Governance), CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility), climate innovation, and impact investing. The dialogues are curated by Harsha Saxena, Founder and CEO of IICSR and Lynera.ai, who will personally host and facilitate the gatherings.

An Invitation to the Global Sustainability Fraternity

With growing concerns about climate change, social equity, and sustainable corporate governance, professionals across industries are looking for spaces to connect, reflect, and act together. The Sustainability Dialogues are exactly that—a forum for passionate professionals to gather in person and build meaningful connections across borders. “We are witnessing a growing urgency across the globe to go beyond policy and into practical, people-powered action,” said Harsha Saxena, Founder IICSR. “These dialogues are about building a community of

What Makes the Dialogues Unique?

Unlike traditional summits or seminars, the IICSR Sustainability Dialogues focus on intimate, high-impact exchanges over casual conversations and mutual learning. There is no stage, no microphone—just real people discussing real-world challenges and ideating together.

The event series aims to:

Create safe spaces for sustainability practitioners to discuss failures, successes, and new experiments
Promote cross-border learning from India, the USA, and Europe in building climate-conscious businesses

Strengthen the network of IICSRians (alumni and associates of IICSR) and collaborators
Encourage open innovation in ESG dashboards, carbon market solutions, and AI for climate governance

Participants will also receive exclusive eco-friendly goodies, including sustainable journals, carbon-neutral gifts, and other green tokens of appreciation.

Voices from the Community

Previous editions of IICSR Dialogues in India have brought together hundreds of professionals and changemakers, with tremendous feedback for their interactive format, inspiring leadership, and global perspectives. "I attended the Mumbai chapter earlier this year and walked away with three new collaborations. It was a space where I felt genuinely heard, and where I could explore ideas without pressure," shared one attendee from a climate-tech startup.

In this Europe edition, Harsha hopes to further strengthen the Indo-European bridge in sustainable development, explore knowledge partnerships with universities, connect with impact investors and entrepreneurs and build momentum for larger programs launching later in 2025.

About IICSR

The International Institute of Corporate Sustainability and Responsibility (IICSR) was founded in 2010 and has grown into one of the most respected institutions offering certified programs in ESG, carbon markets, sustainability leadership, and ethical governance. IICSR is accredited by ACTD (American Council for Training and Development), EAHEA (European Agency for Higher Education and Accreditation), and MEPSC (Management & Entrepreneurship and Professional Skills Council).

Over the last decade, IICSR has trained over 6,000 professionals, collaborated with 150+ companies, and launched impactful initiatives across Asia, Europe, and the US. Its new-age platform, Lynera.ai, is a smart learning ecosystem combining AI, blockchain, and sustainability curricula to help companies track, train, and transform their ESG performance.

Final Thoughts

The IICSR Sustainability Dialogues are more than just networking events—they represent a growing global movement of purpose-led professionals who want to build a better world. By bringing together practitioners from different cultures, sectors, and disciplines, these gatherings aim to sow the seeds of transformation—one conversation at a time.

As climate change accelerates, and the pressure on businesses to adapt and act intensifies, it is initiatives like these that will shape the next generation of ESG leaders, sustainable startups, and responsible corporations. Whether you're a seasoned sustainability consultant or just starting your journey in the green economy, the IICSR Dialogues offer a chance to belong, build, and lead in one of the most important movements of our time.
