

MC Plumbing Offers $175 Off Flo by Moen Install as Insurance Requirements Tighten

MC Plumbing offers $175 off the Flo by Moen Smart Water Shutoff to help meet insurance requirements and protect against water damage.

SAN JOSE, CA, UNITED STATES, July 28, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MC Plumbing is now offering a $175 discount on the installation of the Flo by Moen Smart Water Shutoff System. This announcement follows a growing trend in the insurance industry, where many providers are beginning to require leak detection systems before approving or renewing homeowner insurance policies. By installing a smart shutoff device, homeowners can better protect their property and meet these updated coverage requirements.

Whole-Home Leak Detection Built for Modern Plumbing Needs

The Flo by Moen Smart Water Monitor and Shutoff is designed to provide round-the-clock protection for the entire home. Installed directly on the main water supply line, the device uses sensors to track water flow, pressure, and temperature. If unusual activity is detected, such as a burst pipe or slow leak, the system automatically shuts off the water supply to prevent damage. It also connects to the Moen Smart Water App, allowing users to monitor their plumbing system and receive real-time alerts on their smartphones, even when away from home. More information about the system and current installation offers can be found at mcplumbing.com/coupons.

Smart Water Control and Leak Prevention in One System

The Flo by Moen doesn't just stop leaks—it also helps manage water use more efficiently. Using FloSense™ 3.0 technology, the system learns a home's typical water patterns and looks for unusual changes, like a slow drip or a fixture left on. Real-time updates are sent through the Moen Smart Water App, where homeowners can track usage, check system health, and set conservation goals from anywhere.

The device also connects with smart home platforms like Amazon Alexa and Ring, making it easy to control the system with voice commands or receive alerts through existing home devices. To keep everything running smoothly, Flo by Moen performs daily health checks that automatically test the plumbing system for hidden issues. These tests help identify problems early—before they turn into major leaks—giving homeowners better control and added peace of mind.

Leak Detection Devices Help Homeowners Meet Insurance Expectations

Water damage continues to be one of the leading causes of home insurance claims across the country. Studies show that water-related incidents are six times more likely to occur than fire and eight times more likely than theft. Because of this, many insurance companies are encouraging or requiring the use of smart leak detection systems like Flo by Moen. These systems help reduce the number and severity of claims, making homes safer and more resilient to common plumbing problems.
