Electrolysis is the only FDA-approved method for permanent hair removal and is highly effective on all skin tones and hair types. It targets individual hair follicles with a precise electrical current that destroys the hair root, preventing future growth. Unlike temporary solutions like waxing or shaving, electrolysis offers long-term results without relying on hair color or texture.

Naples Laser & Skin Aesthetics uses advanced electrolysis technology operated by skilled professionals to ensure accuracy and comfort during each session. Whether treating small facial areas or larger body zones, clients can expect personalized treatment plans based on their skin sensitivity, hair growth cycles, and desired outcome.

This treatment is ideal for those seeking a reliable alternative to laser hair removal, particularly for lighter or finer hairs that lasers often miss. Electrolysis is also suitable for individuals with hormonal imbalances or conditions such as PCOS, where consistent hair removal is essential.

With its focus on clean, meticulous care, Naples Laser & Skin Aesthetics ensures that all electrolysis sessions are conducted in a hygienic, private setting, with careful attention to skin health before and after treatment. The service complements the clinic's vast offerings, from laser treatments to customized facials and injectables.
