Speaking on the launch of the production house and its first film, Venugopal Naidu Puvvada, Founder of Innolens Productions, said, “At Innolens, we believe stories have the power to reflect who we are, challenge how we think, and connect us in ways few things can. This journey began with the intent to support thoughtful, original cinema, and Production No. 1 reflects that vision. It reminds us why we started Innolens: to tell real stories and support voices that deserve to be heard.”

Director Jay Aditya Reddy M shared his thoughts on the film, "This is not just a thriller, it's a descent into the subconscious, exploring how guilt and memory can reshape our reality. This project is a reflection of the fragile boundary between truth and perception."

Lead actor Surya Vashistta added, "Playing Dev will challenge everything I knew about performance. He's layered, conflicted, and emotionally raw, this role demanded complete psychological immersion."

The first look poster and motion teaser of Production No. 1 will be launched at an exclusive media event in Hyderabad, with leading names from the Telugu film industry in attendance. Event details will be announced soon.
