Taking place on August 16 from 10:00 AM to 3:00 PM CT at the Humboldt Park Health Wellness Center, the free event welcomes both in-person attendees and virtual participants nationwide. M.A.P. Your Health and movement was launched in May by Orange Biomed—the inventor of the world's first pocket-sized, microfluidic-based A1C analysis device, dedicated to improving access and accuracy in chronic condition care. Since then, it has recruited over 18 healthcare and community organizations to join and continues to grow.

The first in-person session will expand nationwide with additional partners to be announced. New partners include AccentCare, Androlab Inc., Cancer Wellness Center, Chicago Urban League, Common Threads, Grand Smiles, the Illinois Public Health Institute, Kindness Homecare, Inc, and more. “We are fully ready to kick off our first local event as part of our national movement. It's incredible to see how many leading Chicago organizations have stepped up to join, and the list of partners continues to grow by the day. Thanks to their support, this event is more than educational; it's action-driven, with practical tools that help individuals and families take charge of chronic disease prevention and management," said Yeaseul Park, CEO and Co-Founder of Orange Biomed. "Our mission is to mobilize communities with real resources and connections, not just in Chicago, but across the country. The strong response to this flagship forum reflects the power and potential of the M.A.P. Your Health movement."

The expanded agenda includes health screenings and other essential sessions to help participants start mapping their health data right away. By strengthening collaborations across healthcare, food access, and insurance, M.A.P. Your Health is building a more inclusive and actionable approach to chronic disease prevention. "This isn't just about awareness, it's about equipping people with the tools, connections, and support they need to take control of their health," Park continued. The movement continues to grow with local leaders like the Illinois Public Health Institute, a statewide leader in health policy and community wellness, hosting sessions at the event.

The full schedule features Q&A sessions with healthcare experts, yoga and track walking, and all-day health screenings. Attendees can explore interactive resource tables offering practical tools, giveaways, and expert advice, along with healthy food tastings, raffles, and wellness demos. Highlights include featured sessions on topics such as understanding the healthcare landscape, health careers, diabetes prevention, and funding in U.S. healthcare, plus a Spanish-language panel and an "Ask the Endocrinologist" session led by Dr. Adam Stein of Northwestern Medicine, joined by other healthcare professionals and community leaders.
