

LOCAL City Eats Launches to Revolutionize Dining Discovery, Featuring Cash-Back Reviews Through RATE$BATES

Designed to fuel authentic recommendations and reward everyday diners

CHANDLER, AZ, UNITED STATES, August 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A bold new platform is launching this month to elevate the way locals discover and support restaurants in their city. LOCAL City Eats, a new community-powered food platform, is giving diners more than just a place to post reviews — it's giving them a reason to share, starting with its innovative new program: RATE$BATES.

Designed to fuel authentic recommendations and reward everyday diners, RATE$BATES pays users to post verified reviews of local restaurants. Unlike other review platforms, LOCAL City Eats goes beyond stars and filters, encouraging meaningful contributions from real locals — and putting money (or gift cards!) back in their pockets.

“

Think Yelp Elite, but with better food, real perks, and real impact in your city”

□ RATE$BATES: Real Rewards for Real Reviews

Unlike any other dining platform, RATE$BATES turns reviews into real money. LOCAL City Eats pays users to post verified reviews of restaurants they visit — not just opinions, but real, detailed contributions backed by proof of purchase.

Here's how it works:

□ $2.50 for every verified review you write (50+ words, 2 photos, and a receipt)

□ $1.25 when someone you refer writes a verified review

□ $0.50 when your referral's referral does the same

"RATE$BATES finally puts value where it belongs — with the diners who are actively shaping the local food scene," says Troy Warren, founder of LOCAL City Eats. "We're building a city-by-city community that rewards real food experiences, not fake ratings or influencer fluff."

This reward structure creates a powerful incentive not just to review, but to refer friends and build local momentum — forming a self-sustaining food discovery ecosystem fueled by everyday locals.

□ Coming Soon: Dining Out VIP – Private Plate Society

As LOCAL City Eats gains traction, the platform is teasing a next-level membership tier for top contributors. The Dining Out VIP: Private Plate Society is an exclusive status reserved for 25 members in each city who meet specific activity and referral milestones.

Members will receive:

□□ A complimentary tasting night each month at a top local restaurant

□ Hosted by a LOCAL Foodie Host for a curated VIP experience

□ A $25 dining allowance covered by LOCAL City Eats

“Think Yelp Elite, but with better food, real perks, and real impact in your city,” hints Troy Warren. “It’s all about celebrating the people who shape local food culture.”

Full details will be released soon, but early food reviewers and RATE$BATES referrers will have a chance to be first in line.

□ Locally Built. Locally Powered.

LOCAL City Eats is expanding city-by-city throughout 2025. Unlike other review sites or deal platforms, restaurants on LOCAL City Eats pay zero commissions on offers and keep 100% of their deal revenue — finally putting restaurants and diners at the center of the experience.

Whether you're a passionate foodie, a casual diner, or a small business looking to grow through real-word-of-mouth, LOCAL City Eats is built for you.

Watch for private invites and join the movement, get rewarded for your taste, and help reshape your city's food scene.
