I want to inspire people to invest in their health today, so they don't have to spend their money saving their life or risking their quality of life later. Go Back to School in Whole Health with Dr. J”

“A healthy body feels good. When you feel good, you perform better everywhere in life,” says Dr. Jacob, holistic health coach, body expert, and Doctor of Chiropractic Medicine. “When your body is properly aligned and the systems are open for flow, the body feels good, enabling the person to handle stress and anxiety in a more calm, cool, and collected way. You think more clearly, and you perform at a higher level, from athletes to students to everyone.”

Professional, amateur, and student athletes are reaping the benefits of Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy, a modality offered by Dr. Jacob, an OG in the treatment for nearly 30 years. “When you heal the body now, while the injuries are fresh, you save yourself from pain and brain disease later,” says Dr. Jacob. “Really, just about anyone who wants optimal health, who wants to think and perform at their highest level, who wants to clear their mind and open the systems within their body will benefit from Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy. We have a chamber in our offices, along with many other healing modalities, and our prices are reasonable."

Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy (HBOT) works by flooding the body with oxygen. The oxygen administered is compressed using mild pressure equivalent to diving 33 feet underwater. When oxygen is compressed, cells can absorb high levels of oxygen, stimulating healing and detoxification throughout the body.

The increase in oxygen absorption accelerates the body's ability to function properly, grow new skin, blood vessels, and connective tissues. Studies have shown it to work well on brain injuries, strokes and neurological conditions, as well as the average office worker, athlete, and housewife.
