What Are The Driving Factors Impacting The Non-Dairy Yogurt Market?

The growth of the non-dairy yogurt market during the forecast period is expected to be driven by consumers with high lactose intolerance. Lactose intolerance hinders the body's ability to digest lactose, a sugar found in milk and other dairy items. These individuals will likely incorporate non-dairy yogurt into their diets, leading to a rise in product demand. The product is rich in proteins and calcium, both of which contribute to immunity enhancement. According to the National Library of Medicine, a United States federal government operation, lactose intolerance is quite prevalent in adults as of April 2022, although it's rarely harmful. By the age of 20, about 30 million American adults become lactose intolerant. There is a high demand for lactose-free items, leading to an increase in demand for non-dairy products in the non-dairy yogurt market throughout the forecast period.
