

EFBE and SGS Unite to Set New Standards in Bicycle and E-bike Compliance

GENEVA, UNITED KINGDOM, August 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SGS, the world's leading testing, inspection and certification company, is pleased to announce that EFBE Prüftechnik GmbH and EFBE Co., Ltd. (collectively EFBE) have joined the SGS family. This move expands SGS's global capabilities in the bicycle and e-bike sector.

Based in Waltrop, Germany, with a subsidiary in Taichung, Taiwan, EFBE brings over 30 years of expertise in testing bicycles, e-bikes and components. Their services include advanced testing solutions, test bench design, laboratory and manufacturing audits and specialized training and consultancy.

By integrating EFBE's expertise, SGS is now able to provide more localized, comprehensive solutions across compliance, safety and quality assurance. Together, they offer faster, broader support across key service areas, including:

- Structural and fatigue testing
- Mechanical and electrical safety
- Battery safety and range performance
- Electromagnetic compatibility (EMC)
- Functional safety and cybersecurity
- Chemical compliance

EFBE's customers will benefit from continued dedicated service alongside access to SGS's extensive global resources, driving greater innovation and growth.
