

New 'Fast Hire Index' Reveals the Best U.S. States and Industries to Find a Job Quickly in 2025

Hawaii, South Dakota, and Texas lead the pack; blue-collar jobs dominate fastest-hiring sectors

AMSTERDAM, AMSTERDAM,
NETHERLANDS, August 7, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- As jobseekers face a highly competitive job market in 2025, a new study by career platform Jobseeker offers a data-driven solution: go where the hiring is fastest. The newly released Fast Hire Index reveals which U.S. states and industries are filling roles the fastest, and the results may surprise jobseekers across the country.

The rankings are based on U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics data (JOLTS, LAUS, and 2022–2032 employment projections), combining job openings, hiring rates, unemployment levels, and long-term job growth projections into a standardized 0–10 scale.

With Gen Z entering the job market and questioning the value of college debt, blue-collar roles are becoming more attractive, especially with shorter hiring timelines and future-proof job security.”

“In today’s job market, speed is everything, especially for people under financial pressure or changing careers,” said Reyhaneh Mansouri, Career Expert at Jobseeker. “Our Fast Hire Index helps people find out where and what to target for the quickest route to employment.”

Top 10 States to Find a Job Fast in 2025

1. Hawaii: Index 8.03

- With a booming job market and low unemployment,

Hawaii offers the fastest hiring conditions nationwide.

2. South Dakota: 6.93

- Low competition and high hiring rates place this rural state in the second spot.

3. Texas: 6.72

- High projected job growth and a large, dynamic labor market make Texas a standout for fast hiring.

4. Montana: 6.26

5. Vermont: 6.21

6. Florida: 6.19

7. Indiana: 6.10

8. Tennessee: 5.84

9. Nebraska: 5.79

10. Utah: 5.58

By contrast, states like Illinois, Massachusetts, and D.C. show significantly slower hiring, with D.C. ranked last with an index score of just 1.09.

4. Finance & Insurance: 2.96

- Top 3 In-Demand Jobs: Financial Advisor, Accountant, Financial Analyst

5. Professional & Business Services: 2.85

- Top 3 In-Demand Jobs: Data Analyst, Management Consultant, Project Manager

“We’re seeing hiring strength shift away from traditional white-collar roles and toward skilled trades,” said Reyhane Mansouri. “With Gen Z entering the job market and questioning the value of college debt, blue-collar roles are becoming more attractive, especially with shorter hiring timelines and future-proof job security.”

Skilled Trades Are Leading the Hiring Race

While industries like finance and business services still offer competitive salaries, they face tighter competition and longer time-to-hire. In contrast, trades like transportation and construction, often accessible without degrees, are hiring faster and growing stronger.

These blue-collar sectors not only offer speed and stability, but also appear less vulnerable to AI and automation, making them increasingly appealing in 2025.

About the Fast Hire Index

Jobseeker’s Fast Hire Index is based on:

- Openings-to-hires ratio (Jan–May 2025)
- Projected employment growth (2023–2033)
- Unemployment rate (as of May 2025)

Final scores are standardized on a scale of 0–10 to compare hiring speed across states and sectors.
