“The commercial truck and equipment sales process has been too slow and outdated for far too long,” said Jose Angel Tavaréz, Founder and CEO of Inspired Funding.”

Jose Angel Tavaréz

founder and CEO of Inspired Funding LLC, today announced the launch of CamionDepot.com, an innovative online marketplace designed to transform how commercial trucks and heavy equipment are bought, sold, and financed across the United States.

CamionDepot.com gives select, vetted commercial truck and equipment dealerships the ability to promote their inventory to a nationwide network of thousands of pre-approved buyers. These are serious, purchase-ready customers actively looking for commercial trucks, trailers, construction equipment, and other heavy machinery.

The platform’s mission is simple: connect trusted sellers with qualified buyers faster than ever before — and make financing as seamless as the match itself.

A Smarter, Faster Way to Buy and Sell Commercial Equipment

For years, dealerships have faced the same challenge: plenty of interested leads, but few truly qualified buyers ready to make a purchase. At the same time, buyers often discover the right equipment but face delays in securing financing, causing deals to stall or fall apart altogether.

CamionDepot.com solves both problems by pairing exclusive inventory promotion with integrated, same-week financing options from its parent company, Inspired Funding LLC. Once a buyer and seller connect through the platform, funding can be secured in days — not weeks.

Available financing solutions include:

1. Commercial truck loans

2. Heavy equipment financing
3. Construction equipment leasing
4. Trailer financing
5. Working capital solutions for equipment purchases

By combining targeted marketing, qualified buyer outreach, and instant financing, CamionDepot.com shortens the sales cycle and delivers a better experience for both parties.

Designed for Dealers Who Want Results

Unlike open marketplaces crowded with unverified listings, CamionDepot.com is exclusive to trusted, vetted dealerships. This means buyers can browse with confidence, knowing every listing comes from a reputable seller.

Dealers benefit from:

Exclusive exposure to a network of pre-approved, purchase-ready buyers.

Higher closing rates thanks to fast financing options built into the platform.

Nationwide reach to expand beyond their local market.

Faster payment cycles, turning inventory into cash more quickly.

A Vision to Modernize the Industry

“The commercial truck and equipment sales process has been too slow and outdated for far too long,” said Jose Tavaréz, Founder and CEO of Inspired Funding. “With CamionDepot.com, we’re solving the two biggest challenges: finding qualified buyers and securing financing quickly. Dealers get serious leads, buyers get the equipment they need, and everyone saves time.”

Tavaréz, known for his forward-thinking approach to equipment financing and marketplace innovation, has positioned CamionDepot.com as both a sales accelerator and a financing powerhouse.

Nationwide Reach With Local Impact

While CamionDepot.com serves dealers and buyers across all 50 states, it also provides localized buyer matching — ensuring that equipment located in one region can easily find a buyer nearby, cutting down on shipping costs and logistics challenges.

The platform is also designed with scalability in mind. As more dealerships join and more buyers register, the system's matching algorithms become even more precise, ensuring faster and better-quality connections.
